

The ellipses represent start and end processes, the squares represent functions, the parallelograms represent outputs and inputs, and the arrows represent the flow of control.